

Table showing use of the FOP continued-label extension. This is intended to be used in table-header or table-footer cells. It should contain fo:inline child or children. This content will be laid out only if the table does not fit on a single page and flows to following pages. Following is the FO code which produces this table header.

```
<fo:table-header>
  <fo:table-row font-weight="bold" text-align="center" vertical-align="middle">
    <fo:table-cell border-style="solid" border-width="1pt" border-color="black">
      <fo:block>Header column 1 with continued label
      <fox:continued-label><fo:inline> (cont.)</fo:inline></fox:continued-label>
    </fo:table-cell>
      <fo:block>Header column 2 with no continued label</fo:block>
    </fo:table-cell>
  </fo:table-row>
